

Biocomputing II / html

This directory contains the HTML, CSS and CGI files for the Front End webpage.

It has been implemented as a Python script so it can access the configuration information- This script generates the webpage. Any searches made on different parameters pulls the relevant data from the Business Layer and takes the user to the subsequent search web pages.

Author: Farah Khan

Date: 02/05/2022